Hey, guys! How are you doing? Here, in Mexico, it's much hotter. That's because Mexico is just on the equator.

I am in Acapulco, Guerrero, Mexico. The members of my host family are Mom and Brother David. They have dogs and cats.

Acapulco is very close to the sea. So it is very famous as a resort. I sometimes go to the sea. But there is a swimming pool in my host family's house, so I usually use it.

My school starts at 7:50 or 8:50 in the morning and ends at noon. On the first day, I was worried about making friends at school, but everyone was very kind and interesting to me. So I was able to make a lot of friends.

Mexico has its independence day. It is September 16th. This day is very important, so all relatives gather in one of their houses. Furthermore, on the day, they put up the Mexican flag, and dance with their family, saying "Viva México!" Of course, I danced together with my host family, though I couldn't dance well. It was a very good memory.

He has had a very satisfying life in Mexico! We are looking forward to hearing from him again.
